Deborah Rose is a Welsh singer/songwriter whose emotive, timeless voice has been described by folk legend Judy Collins as “one of the finest I’ve ever heard”. Deborah supported Ms. Collins on the UK leg of her world tour in 2011 after meeting her at the Isle of Wight Festival in 2009.

Deborah’s debut album, “Song Be My Soul” will be released this year. Her guiding light is to serve others by using her voice to reach out, inspire, and touch that place deep in the soul of her audiences. For Deborah music is a gift, and her joy is in sharing it.

“...“Deborah Rose is a fine singer whose voice reveals an inherent quality that seems to transcend musical genres.”
Dan Cassidy, violinist and brother of Eva Cassidy

“Deborah’s voice and music reach deeply into the soul. Her music is exceedingly beautiful, achingly romantic, a real burst of wild-flowers and all their scents.” Math Jones, RSC
